Workforce Resource
FoodShare Employment & Training Program (FSET)

What Can The FSET Program Do For You?

The FSET Program can help you:

- Update your resume
- Develop new job skills
- Find a job or find a better job

FSET is a free program that helps FoodShare members build their skills and find a job.

The Workforce Resource FSET Program offers individual services to help you identify your strengths, needs and job preferences, as well as services to support you in your job search.

Some of the services that Workforce Resource offers include:

- Career Services Workshops: Designed to help you gain skills to achieve your job goals as well as your personal goals. A professional trainer teaches several workshops each week or you can participate by watching a prerecorded workshop at the Job Center.
- Career Counseling: A process that will help you to know and understand yourself and the world of work in order to make job, education and life decisions.
- Educational/Vocational Training: Short term training for high demand jobs.
- Support/Job Retention Services: Assistance to help you find and keep a job. This may include help with transportation, child-care and other work-related costs.
